REDS IN LABOR MEETING.

An attempt was made yesterday to turn a meeting of unemployed workingmen into an anarchistic demonstration, and for half an hour the big meeting hall in Cooper Union, New York, where the meeting took place, was the scene of wild excitement, during which red flags were raised, the police denounced and incendiary speeches made.

Alexander Berkman, the anarchist who some years ago shot Henry O. Frick, a steel company official, during the Homestead strike in Pennsylvania, was dragged from the hall by the police and locked up. A young woman who gave her name as "Mary Smith" and who stood by Berkman, was also arrested, and Emma Goldman, recognized leader of the "Reds" in this country, was made to leave the hall.

Not since the disturbing scenes following a meeting held in Grand Central palace, to celebrate the acquittal of William D. Haywood, accused of the murder of ex-Governor Steunenberg, of Idaho, has the anarchistic element raised such a disturbances in New York.

Only the stern measures adopted by the police prevented the meeting from becoming an out-and-out anarchist affair, although the Unemployed and Brotherhood Welfare Association which planned the meeting, had no other intention than to present its claim that there are thousanas of idle workmen in this city

ASSAULTED BY PRISONER.

While his shackles were temporarily loosened for the purpose of permitting him to write a check, J. J. Powell, in Suffolk, yesterday afternoon, made a ferocious attack on W. H. Kitchen. He battered Kitchen on the head with the handcuffs, knocking him down and likely would have fractured the skull but for interference by court officers. There was a bitter feud between the men, who are farmers, of Magnolia. Powell had been arrested on charges of poisoning horses, mules, hogs and other live stock owned by Kitchen. That happened Saturday night. Powell was arrested Sunday and confessed. He is said to belong to a "white cap" society, which threatened his life unless he took revenge on Kitchen. Powell says his "pals" will yet shoot every member of the Kitchen family. He would have applied the torch, so officers say, to the Kitchen home, but for the fact there is one daughter whom he did not wish to harm.

Powell was captured by Hurricane Branch and Police Chief Brinkley. Branch says Powell is supposed to have two jars full of money. Justice Deberry sent Powell's case to the Circuit Court and the prisoner was held without bail.

VICTIM OF A MANIAC.

After 10 days of intense suffering Cornelius Baker, 60 years old, a retired farmer of near East Berlin, Pa., is dead as the result of wounds inflicted by John Bosserman, the lunatic who became violent on the way to be baptized, and murderously assaulted three men with a hammer.

After Bosserman had felled Nathaniel Baker and John Butt, he attacked Cornelius Baker, who had gone to their rescue. The old man was unarmed, and he was more seriously wounded than the others, receiving blows upon the head which caused concussion of the brain.

Butts' condition remains critical, while Nathaniel Baker is improving, and will recover. Mrs. Baker, whom Bosserman compelled to sing and pray under threats of death, is a nervous wreck. Bosserman is confined in chains in the Adams county almshouse at Gettysburg.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Margaret, daughter of Raymond Marean, of Cumberland, Md., was fatally burned yesterday while playing with matches, dying yesterday evening, four hours after the accident occurred. She was celebrating her fourth birthday, and, with her little brother, had gone to light some candles he had discovered that were to be used in the celebration.

Many old houses in Holland have a special door which is never opened save on special occasions, when there is a marriage or a death in the family. The bride and bridegroom enter by this door, and it is then nailed or barred up until a death occurs, when it is opened and the body is removed by this exit.

The statistics of the Suez canal traffic for 1907 show that out of a total of 4,267 ships passing through the canal, aggregate tonnage 14,728,434, the American flag was flown by only nine ships, with a tonnage of 12,537. The topliners were the British (2,651 ships), German (580), French (239), Dutch (123), Austrian (129), while the only maritime nations distanced by America were Belgium, China, Egypt, Siam and Portugal.

Emile Berliner, of Washington, who has for sometime been at work on propellers for aerial craft, has lately constructed an experimental one of such power that, placed horizontally, it is capable of lifting 360 pounds in a calm straight up into the air. There is no gasbag and no aeroplane; simply a motor weighing 100 pounds, some framework, gearing and a two-bladed fan, the latter having a surface of about 36 square feet. Moreover, the whole apparatus, outside the seat of the operater, is entirely of steel and aluminum, and is, according to the inventor, built substantially and for practical use.

PUNISHED ICE CREAM.

Without even trying to establish a record, fifty-six girls of Hallam, York county, Pa., at a picnic given them at Strong's Park by E. M. Seiple, a restaurateur of the town, ate eleven gallons of ice cream, drank a barrel of lemonade, and consumed more cakes and sandwiches than it would be polite to mention. Mr. Seiple, who was somewhat dismayed, says his next picnic will be to the boys.

RICHEST GIRL IN OKLAHOMA.

Ruth Tate Brady, of Oklahoma, is the richest girl in the far west. She is 12 years old and has in her own right an income of $400 a day. Her mother was a half-blooded Cherokee Indian. Miss Brady received 300 acres of public land on the allotment, and on this tract oil wells have been developed producing daily 2,000 barrels of oil.

A Traveling Man's Experience.

"I must tell you my experience on an east bound O. R. & N. R. R. train from Pendleton to La Grande, Ore., writes Sam A. Garber, a well known traveling man. "I was in the smoking department with some other traveling men when one of them went out into the coach and came back and said, 'There is a woman sick unto death in the car.' I at once got up and went out, found her very ill with cramp colic; her hands and arms were drawn up so you could not straighten them, and with a death-like look on her face. Two or three ladies were working with her and giving her whisky. I went to my suit case and got my bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarroea Remedy (I never travel without it), ran to the water tank, put a double dose of the medicine in the glass, poured some water into it and stirred it with a pencil; then I had quite a time to get the ladies to let me give it to her, but I succeeded. I could at once see the effect and I worked with her, rubbing her hands, and in twenty minutes I gave her another dose. By this time we were almost into La Grande, where I was to leave the train. I gave the bottle to the husband to be used in case another dose should be needed, but by the time the train ran into La Grande she was all right, and I received the thanks of every passenger in the car." For sale by W. F. Creighton & Co., and Richard Gibson.

ALEXANDRIA GAZETTE AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER

TUESDAY EVENING, SEPT. 8, 1908.

UNUSUAL activity marks the close of the state campaign in Maine. September 14 the state elections will be held and a governor, state auditor, members of the legislature and county officers will be elected. Conditions make the result somewhat doubtful. The proposition to resubmit an old constitutional amendment to prohibit the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors is one of the main points at issue. Bert M. Fernald, the republican nominee, who had a hard fight in the convention, is a stand-patter on prohibition. Obediah Gardner, democratic nominee, is a teetotaler but he declares the people should express their views on the liquor question and he is willing to abide by the result. The taxation of wild lands is another question that enters into the campaign. Chairman Mack, of the national democratic committee, says: "We will make no effort in Maine. Whatever is done there will be done by the local managers. We are not wasting efforts over impossible states." Notwithstanding which, however, the Maine democrats have secured the services of several speakers of renown, including Senator Gore, of Oklahoma, and will give the republicans the fight of their lives. In the meantime the republican party is sending prominent national speakers into the New England states in the effort to roll up an impressive majority.

THE American Bar Association, in session at Seattle last week, adopted the new code of ethics which a committee had prepared. One of the chief features is that lawyers shall not counsel clients or allow themselves to transgress the moral law in fighting their legal battles. Contingent fees, when sanctioned by law, shall be under the supervision of the court. It is the duty of all lawyers to respect the courts and to try to keep politics out of the selection of judges. Counsel for persons accused of crime may act in that capacity without regard to their personal conviction as to the guilt of the accused. Attempts to curry favor with juries by fawning or flattery are discredited. Lawyers may not represent interests before legislatures unless they do so openly. Soliciting business by circulars, etc., is unprofessional. No case should be undertaken that conflicts with the final obligation of the lawyer to uphold the law of the land.

THE big railroad companies would not be obliged to consider either the necessity of increasing freight rates or of decreasing wage rates if they could buy their steel rails, locomotives, bridge material and other necessary iron and steel supplies in an untariffed market. Mr. Charles M. Schwab has testified that steel rails can be laid down by American railmakers in foreign markets for $16 per ton. The home railroad companies are obliged to pay the steel trust $28 per ton. Yet the trust sells steel rails in Japan, Canada and Mexico for $20 per ton. What the trust, by reason of tariff preferences says the Philadelphia Record, unjustly takes from the earnings of the railroads the railroads are in turn compelled to take from the purchasers of transportation. The trusts prosper, and the people suffer.

A NATIONAL BANK, of Chicago, recently collated replies from four thousand bankers and business men to its inquiries regarding trade prospects, and the general opinion is favorable. But it cannot be stated that the confident predictions of good times are conditioned upon the election of Mr. Taft. In the synopsis of the replies sent out from Chicago it seems to be assumed that there are as good prospects of prosperity under Mr. Bryan as under the republican candidate. This will be disappointing for the republicans who are trying to make people believe that if Mr. Taft is not elected the country will go the demnition bow-wows.

SOME of the state papers are disposed to let the gubernatorial campaign rest till the presidential election is over. This is a most excellent idea and should be adopted. It is bad enough to be on with a new campaign as soon as we are off with the other, but a combination of two or more is dreadful. Only the politicians and those who hope to be benefited personally thereby would inflict such a condition of affairs upon a long-suffering-from-elections people.

From Washington.

[Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.]

Washington, Sept. 8.

The State Department today issued the following statement: Minister Dodge who went to Tegucigalpa to discuss the incident of the revocation of the exequaturs of Consul Linard and Vice-Consul Reynolds at Ceiba telegraphs the satisfactory and amicable adjustment of the matter. "The Honduras government is to publish to a degree temporarily revalidating the exequaturs of the American consul and vice-consul in order to afford opportunity for the two governments to consider in a friendly spirit of perfect equality the charges heretofore made against those officers of having intervened with the revolutionists on the occasion of the recent attack on Ceiba. Minister Dodge will return to Salvador. The new secretary of legation at Tegucigalpa, Hugh S. Libson, will soon reach his post."

If Monsignor Falconio, apostolic delegate to Washington, is to be succeeded by Mgr. Averas, as reported in press cables from Rome, he has not been informed of that fact. No information has reached Mgr. Falconio that any change is contemplated by the Vatican in the Washington mission. So far as known here, Mgr. Averas, who is now in Rome, will return in October to Cuba where he is apostolic delegate.

Judge Alton B. Parker is in the city on legal business. Speaking of politics he said the situation favored Bryan. On a recent trip to the Pacific Coast he said the democratic nominee was strong and gaining in popularity. He looks for Mr. Bryan's election in November.

Virginia News.

The Washington District Epworth League conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church South convened at Hamilton, Loudoun county, this morning, and will be concluded Wednesday night.

Mrs. Hugh C. Whiting, of Clarke county, daughter of the late Dr. J. C. Montague, of Berryville, died Saturday night at the hospital there from the effects of an operation, aged 45 years. She is survived by her husband and a son.

J. W. Gregg, of Loudoun, republican nominee for Congress in the Eighth district, and Judge W. B. G. Shumate, of Fauquier, republican district elector, addressed a meeting at King George yesterday. Representative Carlin, of Alexandria, candidate for reelection, had expected to speak, but was prevented by illness.

The democratic state central committee is scheduled to meet in Richmond, Thursday night, to outline the work of the national campaign in Virginia. State Chairman J. Taylor Ellyson has gone to Chicago to attend an important meeting tomorrow of the democratic national committee, of which he is a member, but he is expected back in time to preside at Thursday's meeting in Richmond.

Charged with exceeding the speed law, J. Henkel Henry, a young Winchester business man, was arrested in his automobile at the point of a shotgun by Deputy Sheriff James Anderson on a road near town yesterday. Henry was taken before Magistrate Ashby A. Roe and fined $10 and costs. Seeing that the officer was armed Henry reached for his revolver as the former approached the automobile, but no shots were fired.

Mrs. Dean McKee, 31 years old, is dying at her home at Gainesboro, Frederick county, from injures sustained in a driving accident yesterday when her horse ran off and threw her from the buggy. Mrs. McKee was dragged a quarter of a mile before assistance reached her. She was taken to her home unconscious and physicians found that her skull was badly fractured and that she was injured internally. She is the widow of a Frederick county farmer and has two children.

Dr. Thos. Turner, of Frederick, Md., died Saturday night after more than a year's illness of pulmonary disease, aged 75. He was a native of Georgetown, but had resided in Frederick since 1840. He was graduated from the University of Virginia in 1850, and practiced medicine in Frederick until the war broke out, when he enlisted in the Confederate army, and was surgeon in charge for a time of hospitals in Stonewall Jackson's corps. In 1860 he married Miss R. Belle Janney, daughter of Dr. J. J. Janney, of Clarke county, Va.

With his foot mangled by the accidental discharge of a shotgun and blood pouring from the wound, Claude Anderson, young son of R. C. Anderson of Wardensville, Hampshire county W. Va., owes his life to the heroism of Ira McKeever, a young companion of Winchester. The boys were squirrel hunting on the mountain five miles from Wardensville, when Anderson's gun went off, tearing a hole through his foot Placing the wounded boy on his back and carrying the two guns and ammunition, McKeever walked five miles over a mountain road to Wardensville, reaching a physician just in time to save Anderson's life.

With the biggest political gathering in a quarter of a century at Jonesville, Lee county, the Ninth district campaign opened yesterday, Congressman Slemp, republican, of Big Stone Gap, and J. Lloyd Byars, democrat, of Bristol, discussing the issues in joint debate. Saturday night the two candidates, with their camp followers, went to Pennington Gap, where another rousing meeting was held. Byars scored Slemp's record in Congress, and in a remarkably strong address laid down the gantlet to his republican opponent in the first speech of the campaign. Slemp did not reply to the criticism of his support of the Crumpacker bill in Congress.

George W. Munro, New York, publisher, was badly hurt in a street car accident in Richmond at midnight on Saturday. Mr. Munro, in company with two women, went to the Davis House. After registering, the three drove to the Hotel Richmond, saying to the clerk that they had left a package. Returning to the Davis Hotel the cab in which they rode was struck by a street car, the heavy rain preventing the motorman from seeing the cab. The cab was reduced to kindling wood. The driver was thrown 20 feet and escaped with some cuts. The two women were thrown from the wreckage and escaped with several cuts and bruises. One of them had the shoes torn from her feet. The women gave their addresses as 721 State street, Philadelphia. Mr. Munro was taken up in a dazed condition. He was badly cut about the head and face, and had a deep gash over the right eye. He refused to give his name or address. After he had been attended by a physician he returned to the Hotel Richmond, where he was stopping. The women are residents of Richmond.

New York Stock Market.

New York, Sept. 8.—After gains of about one point were made in a number of leading stocks in the early part of the first hour a halt was caused by sudden selling of American Locomotive that forced the price of that stock down from 54½ to 52½. At the end of the first hour the upward movement in the general list was resumed.

Rewards have been offered at Melbourne for the arrest of 221 men who failed to rejoin the American battleship fleet.

News of the Day.

Death came suddenly to Mrs. Amelia Randall, 60 years old, of 34 south Fremont street, Baltimore, yesterday, while attending a sale of matting in that city.

Edward Smoot was shot four times in the back at Flemingsburg, Ky., yesterday, by his wife and instantly killed. She then tried to kill herself by shooting herself in the arm. Jealousy was the cause.

Someone who is apt at figures has shown that New York city today is larger in population than 16 different states and territorities, and further that within a radius of 20 miles are living over 10,000,000 people

Fire in the town of Shenandoah, Luray county, destroyed the Tribune office there yesterday morning. The fire department of the town confined the flames to the building in which they originated. The paper had been in operation about a year. The entire equipment of the plant was destroyed.

The late Senator Vilas, of Wisconsin, left an estate valued at $3,000,000. His will provides that this property shall be held in trust and the net income paid to his widow. On her death the entire estate is to be turned over to the University of Wisconsin, subject to a charge of $30,000 a year to the testator's daughter during her lifetime.

Dr. William Osler, for many years a resident of Baltimore, but now Regius Professor of Medicine at Oxford University, England, will likely be elected Lord Rector of the University of Edinburgh. This honor is said to be coming to Dr. Osler on account of the wonderful work he has done at Oxford, and is only given to men who have especially distinguished themselves in the United Kingdom for conspicious service in the world of learning, politics or philanthropy.

TELEGRAPHIC BREVITIES.

The theft of a package containing notes and papers worth $52,000 from the Union depot office of the Wells Fargo Express Company on the night of August 21 was made public at Portland, Ore., today.

When both houses of the Iowa legislature met today to vote separately on a candidate for the short term for the United States senate, the breach in the republican party was as wide open as ever. The stand-patters had another caucus today and decided to stick to their determination not to vote for Governor Cummins.

With a number of Jersey farmers' wagons and ten head of steers aboard the ferryboat Dauntless, plying between Philadelphia and Gloucester, N. J., is hard aground on the Pennsylvania side of the river. So far efforts to get the boat off the mud bank have failed. Six passengers were taken off in the row boats.

Fearing that Judge Taft might be involved in an anarchistic plot, of which the reported shooting at President Roosevelt last Saturday was a part, the republican presidential candidate is under close police guard at Sandusky today. All suspicious persons were expelled from the city and the residence of Col. Marsh, where Mr. Taft spen the night, was guarded by a detail of policemen.

After an illness of long duration, Emperor Kuang Hsu has been compelled to give up his public duties, according to statements made by his physicians in Hongkong, today. The exact nature of the emperor's illness is withheld, but it is known to be of a serious nature. The temporary retirement of the emperor will have no effect on the administrative affairs, as Tsou-Hsi the empress dowager, has been the virtual ruler.

Police in New York today are searching for the bodies of four persons believed to have lost their lives in a fire last night in a building from the ruins of which four bodies already have been removed. The blaze is believed to have been of incendiary origin. The building is used largely by sweatshops and was crowded when the fire started. Eight persons were seen on the fire escapes and it is said they fell back into the fire.

Twenty workmen employed on Hammerstein's opera house, in Philadelphia, nearing completion, were today precipitated from the top of the south wall into the basement. The accident was caused by the collapse of a scaffolding which had been overloaded with material—bricks, mortor etc., The men were covered with this and others debris. Hundreds of persons aided the police in digging the injured men out and they were hurried to St. Joseph's Hospital. All sustained more or less injury.

Charles W. Anderson, alias William January, who was pardoned by President Roosevelt from the federal prison to which he had been returned nine years after he escaped, and who was arrested Saturday night with six others when the police raided a poker game, has disappeared from Kansas City. Anderson was released on cash bond and declared that he had only engaged in a friendly game, but when the case was called in police court this morning, he failed to appear and his bond was declared forfeited. Mrs. Anderson declared her husband has left the city.

The police having tired of his frequent disturbances and mere arrest having failed to check his fiery nature, Alexander D. Berkman, the would-be slayer of Henry C. Frick, arrested yesterday for attempting to break up a meeting of the unemployed at Cooper Union, today began a five days' sentence on Blackwell's Island.

Today's Telegraphic News

Delegates Appointed.

[Special dispatch to the Alexandria Gazette.]

Richmond, Va., Sept. 8.—Governor Swanson today appointed William E. Cameron, of Norfolk; W. S. Copeland, of Newport News, and Howell Featherstone, of Lynchburg, delegates to the National Tax Association, which meets at Toronto October 6.

No Attempt on the President's Life

Oyster Bay, L. I., Sept. 8.—Upon the departure for New York today of Maj. Wadsworth, the friend of President Roosevelt, who was riding with him last Saturday, the bottom was knocked out of a story that an attempt had been made to assassinate the president. Before leaving Maj. Wadsworth declared that while a shot was fired near the road along which he and the president were riding it was not directed at either of them but was fired by some target practicers on the farm of Mr. W. Emlen Roosevelt, the president's cousin.

This positive statement, coupled with an investigation at Mineola of a man suspected of the shooting, which proved the latter to be quite harmless, completely upset the theory of an attempted assassination which had been given considerable credence by a number of newspapers throughout the country.

The story took its shape from the arrest yesterday of John Coughlin, a crank, who attempted to gain an interview with the president. This arrest came subsequent to a mysterious hasty visit to Oyster Bay, a few hours previous, of Chief Wilkie, of the secret service. It was coupled with a report current in Oyster Bay of the shooting along side the road over which the president passed on Saturday with sensational results.

This afternoon Secretary Loeb made the following statement regarding the shooting: "The sensational story appearing in certain morning papers is without the slightest foundation. It is a fake, pure and simple. Chief Wilkie's visit here Sunday was to see the head of this department and Secretary Cortelyou at Huntington on matters wholly unconnected with the story."

Emperor William.

Berlin, Sept. 8.—Emperor William is undergoing the rigors of a soldier's life this week. As umpire-in-chief of the great annual maneuvers of the German army in Alsace-Lorraine, he is camped with his men and today he rode for hours on horseback, following the maneuvers with the enthusiasm of a new recruit. The kaiser's headquarters are at the castle near Metz, but he spends most of his time in the work of the maneuvers. More than 100,000 soldiers are engaged in the maneuvers and unusual interest attaches to them on account of their being held so near the French frontier. There is no doubt that Germany seeks by holding the maneuvers on territory wrested from the French to impress France with her military greatness. The essential features of this year's maneuvers is the participation of three military airships of different types.

The French Victorious.

Paris, Sept. 8.—Details of the fighting between the French troops at Budenib, on the Algerian frontier, and the Berber tribesmen received today indicate that the victory of the French was so sweeping that the uprising is now believed to be at an end. The defeat of the 15,000 Moors who surrounded the French garrison was overwhelming, hundreds being slain by the machine guns of the French. Acting under orders from the war office, General Bailloud, aided by the newly arrived relief column under General Allix, made a determined move against the tribesmen, who fought with fanatical zeal but with crude weapons and in a disorganized manner. The fighting lasted until sundown when the tribesmen fled in utter rout. The french losses were slight, the total of killed and wounded being less than 50. The campaign will be kept until the country is cleared of the warring Moors.

Governor Hughes.

New York, Sept. 8.—Governor Hughes' strength in New York is being tested at the primaries here today. In nine election district the voters will declare in favor or against his nomination, and on their decision it has been said by a number of politicians, State Chairman Woodruff and County Chairman Parsons will determine whether they will continue their opposition to the Governor. Hughes himself, whose home is at the Hotel Astor, was expected to arrive during the day to take part in the primary. There is no contest in the district in which he lives and the voters there have not been asked to declare in favor or against him.

In Brooklyn the republican primaries are considered unimportant, there being no contests, but Senator McCarren is having the fight of his life trying to keep control of the machine.

Mr. Longworth's Stable Burned.

Cincinnati, O., Sept. 8.—Cincinnati firemen saw Mrs. Alice Roosevelt Longworth in a "nightie" on the Longworth lawn at 2 o'clock this morning. The congressman's stable, less than 100 feet in the rear of the house, burned with a loss of $25,000 Congressman and Mrs. Longworth, with the score or more of servants, rushed out of doors at the alarm clad only in their night robes. Although five fire companies were on the scene, the Longworths were afraid to re-enter the house, as it seemed certain to be destroyed. It sets back from the road so far that a line of hose had to be stretched 1,000 feet to reach the single available fire plug. The blaze was finally confined to the stable. The origin of the fire is unknown.

The Currency Question.

New York, Sept. 8.—Members of the congressional financial committee who have been passing through New York on their return from Europe where they have been making investigations indicate that little will be attempted in the way of financial legislation at the coming short session of Congress beyond some revision of the present banking laws.

There is a strong sentiment that a much more ambitious project will grow out of the commitees work. Senator Aldrich, chairman of the committee and of the senate finance committee, it is said by his colleagues is desirous of bringing about the establishment of a homeogeneous and scientific currency system for the United States and to leave it as a monument to his legislative career.

The Market.

Georgetown D. C., Sept. 8 — Wheat 92-93.

A Queen's Blunder.

Rome, Sept. 8.—That Queen Maghertite made a tactical blunder in her denunciation of the proposed marriage of the Duke of Abrozzi to Miss Catherine Elkins and her intimation that the duke was in the class of titled European fortune hunters, is admitted today by both the advocates and opponents of the duke's marriage. Realizing as she must have done that the duke could not be dissuaded from his purpose, the queen erred, court circles say, in driving the duke's family into open resentment by her vehement reception of the plea of Count Turio, who came to her as an emissary from his brother seeking to win the queen's consent.

The count's defense of his brother's fiancee and his defiant declaration that his own mother, Princess Letitia Bonaparte, descended from a family not of the blood royal and yet was good enough to sit on the throne of Spain for five years as the consort of King Amadeus, was a bold stroke and will likely result in a lasting rupture in the royal household. The result of the interview between the count and the queen will likely be to hasten the wedding rather than delay it. The wedding has been set for January 29, the duke's birthday anniversary, but it is stated that he will temporarily relinquish his command of the Regina Elena and hasten to America to urge an earlier marriage.

Taft and Foraker.

Sandusky, O., Sept. 8.—Invading the Foraker stronghold Judge Taft addressed two meetings here today before starting on his return swing across Ohio, for Cincinnati. Judge Taft's first meeting was at the Soldiers' Home, where he greeted the veterans. This meeting was purely non-political. The big event of the day was at the opera house when Mr. Taft appeared before a large audience and spoke under the auspices of the Taft organization committee of this county.

Taft's visit here was expected to heal the bad breach between the two factions. In a measure it has been succeeded, but the aggressive Foraker leaders here were denied invitations to the Taft meeting at the opera house. Notable among these were the Mack Brothers, editors of the official republican organ of the city and county. Editorially the paper this morning reminds Judge Taft that his first political appointment was secured from Foraker, who, as governor of Ohio, established the Soldiers' Home here.

The fight between the Foraker and Taft factions here has been a long and bitter one.

Both speeches here today were extemporaneous. Mr. Taft has decided not to prepare any speeches on his campaign tour. He will try himself as a rear platform talker on his return trip to Cincinnati this afternoon.

The Thaw Case.

New York, Sept. 8.—District Attorney Jerome, who returned today to New York from his summer home in Connecticut, is not worried about the summons to be served on Harry K. Thaw by Referee Blair of Pittsburg. He said he was not worried about Thaw being taken out of the jurisdiction of the New York courts either. "I do not know of any process of law by which Thaw could be taken from the jurisdiction of the New York courts except through a writ of habeas corpus and that is not involved in this case," he said.

Jerome intimated that it was no concern of his. He declared his duty ceased when Thaw was sent to Matteawan and that the matter would be one for the district attorney of the county in which Thaw is held.

The summons he said was not primarily intended to take Thaw out of the state. He declared that it was a purely technical move. Thaw would be served with the summons, he said, and would reply that he could not obey because he was detained by the authorities of the State of New York. This reply, Jerome said, would satisfy the court, the technicalities would have been complied with and the bankruptcy case would proceed without Thaw in attendance.

Fire in Hotel.

Denver, Sept. 8.—Two men were burned to death and a dozen other persons seriously injured early today in a fire which partially destroyed the Hotel Belmont here. One hundred guests were in the building when the fire started, and many were compelled to jump from the upper stories. There was a wild panic in the hotel when the fire began. Most of the guests were in the third story and as the fire spread rapidly scores leaped from the windows. J. D. Kane registered at the hotel yesterday from Colorado Springs. He and H. M. Moore were caught in their rooms and burned to death before the firemen could reach them.

Mr. Bryce to Retired.

London, Sept. 8.—James Bryce's retirement from the British Embassy at Washington is expected here speedily to follow the inauguration of President Roosevelt's successor.

That Lord Desborough, who was a close second in the race with Mr. Bryce for the appointment and has since become still better known among Americans through his presidency of the Olympic council will succeed to the Washington post is considered a forgone conclusion.

Mr. Bryce is known to have accepted the appointment with the understanding that he was to be free to retire as soon as the recently signed arbitration treaties with the United States were concluded, the New Foundland fisheries question settled and some understanding reached concerning Mongolian immigration into the United States from Canada.

All these matters having been satisfactorily disposed of, Mr. Bryce is understood to have intimated that he would like to return to private life.

Forest Fires.

Duluth, Minn., Sept. 8.—Forest fires are again raging in the Mesaba Range and the town of Snowball, with one hundred inhabitants, is reported to be completely wiped out. Hibbings and several other small towns are now threatened.

After destroying Snowball and burnover a territory of 25 miles, the fires died down today. The fact that the renewal of the fires resulted from only a slight breeze, shows that they are still a serious menace. Snowball was a suburb of Hibbing and its inhabitants had no difficulty in escaping.

The citizens of the ruined town of Chisholm today began the work of rebuilding after the city council, at a meeting in Hibbing, had adopted a new building ordinance providing that all buildings constructed after May 1 next must be fire proof.

Will Leave Spain.

Rome, Sept. 8.—Half crazed by worry over the constant threats to revolt at Lisbon and of attempts on the lives of members of the royal family the dowager Queen Maria Pia of Portugal is preparing to leave for Italy where she will make her future home. She is reported as having done everything in her power to induce the young king Manuel to abdicate and accompany her, but he declares his duty is to remain among his people whatever may be the result.

King Victor Emmanuel, who invited the queen to make her home in this country, has advised her that Manuel would do wrong to allow himself to be terrorized.

John G. Morris and his son-in-law, J. Kirk Phelan, are dying at Selma, Ala., today from injuries received in a revolver duel. The men are members of prominent families. Trouble had existed between them for years. After they had emptied their pistols at each other, both men being wounded, they used the weapons as clubs and continued the fight until they could stand up no longer.

The middleweight championship of the world changed hands at Los Angeles yesterday when Billy Papke practically knocked out Stanley Ketchell in the twelfth round of what was scheduled to be twenty-five round contest.

HEALTHY PLANTS

Require the Most Careful Attention as Well as Good Soil.

Did you ever see a rosebush which—despite the most beneficent environment of soil—of sunshine—and of atmosphere—seemed never to achieve a healthy growth?

A ton of manure will not help a plant that has a canker eating out its heart.

You must destroy the cause before you can remove the effect.

You cannot cure Dandruff and Baldness by rubbing on hair lotions, and rubbing in vaseline, etc.

You must look to the cause of the trouble—it's a germ at the roots of your hair which causes it to fall out.

Newbro's Herpicide destroys the germ, and health hair is the sure result.

Sold by Ernest L. Allen & Co., agents Two sizes 50c and $1.00. Send 10c in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. 90

COURT OF APPEALS.

The following business was transacted in the Court of Appeals at Staunton, yesterday:

Chesapeake and Ohio Railway vs. Rowsey's administrator. Argued and submitted.

Wilson vs. Southern Railway. Submitted on briefs.

The next case on the docket is that of the Blue Ridge Light and Power Company vs. Price.

A. W. Cook and C. Duncan, petitioners, against H. A. W. Skeen, judge of the Circuit Court of Lee county, respondent. The following order was issued: This day came the petitioners by counsel and moved the court for a writ of prohibition to the Hon. H. A. W. Skeen, judge of the Circuit Court of Lee county, prohibiting him from entering any order calling a special election in the county of Lee on the question of the removal of the court house of said county from Jonesville to Pennington Gap, in said county, and thereupon came the defendant by counsel and filed his answer to said motion. But because the court here is not yet advised of the order to be entered in the premises, time is taken to consider thereof.

ONE BOY SHOOTS ANOTHER.

A boys' petty quarrel near Century, Barbour county, W. Va., Sunday afternoon, had a tragic ending when Roy Ward, 13 years old, shot and instantly killed Hersel O'Neill, aged 16, a resident of Buckhannon, W. Va., and a visitor at the home of the Wards. While on the porch looking over some souvenir postal cards, the boys got into some dispute concerning them. Young O'Neill kept on sorting the cards, but his playmate, becoming sullen, paced up and down the porch, and then entered the house. In a few minutes Ward reappeared armed with a rifle, and, without warning, stepped up to O'Neill, took aim and fired a bullet into his head. The bullet entered the victim's brain, and he died on the spot. Because of his feebleminded ness, young Ward has not been taken into custody, but is at home, seemingly unable to realize the awful deed he has committed.

ATTACKED BY BEES.

Attacked by a swarm of bees, which turned their attention to him when he endeavored to rescue a a tortured horse, W. R. Yost, a resident of Henrico county, lies at his home in a serious condition, while the horse is dead, more in pain than poison. Mr. Yost had gone to visit a friend on Saturday and as he approached the house saw a horse kick over a hive of honey bees. They attacked the animal, which was hitched to a post, and Mr. Yost endeavored to cut the bridle. He was covered by the swarm, and, although retreating from the upset hive, he was followed. Mr. Yost is badly swollen from head to foot, but physicians are now of the opinion that he will recover.

Kennedy's Laxative Cough Syrup is especially recommended for children. It tastes nearly as good as maple sugar. Sold by W. F. Creighton & Co.

Best Treatment for a Burn.

ENDS LIFE WITH A BULLET.

Leaving a wife and five children to hustle as best they can in a cold and heartless world, Thomas L. Callis, an insurance solicitor, a former resident of this city, committed suicide in Stanton Square, Washington, yesterday. Standing under the statue of Nathaniel Green, located in the park, Callis pulled a .38 caliber pistol from his pocket, leveled it at his right temple and pulled the trigger, the bullet entering his brain. When picked up the fingers were locked about the handle of the pistol and the weapon was removed with difficulty. He was taken to the Casualty Hospital where he died a few moments later. Callis is survived by his wife who was a Miss Florence Bradshaw, of this city, and five children, the eldest, a girl, being fifteen years of age. According to Mrs. Callis, her husband had been in a despondent mood for some time, owing to his inability to procure work. He was an insurance collector, but had been unfortunate in not being able to get employment. Recently he had made the remark that he was going to end it all. "This is no surprise to me," said Mrs. Callis, when informed of her husband's act. I have been expecting it. For over a month he had been out of work, and all he did was worry. I tried to cheer him, and tell him everything would come out all right, but he said he was going to end it all." The revolver was a new one. It is the opinion of the police that the man purchased it on Saturday. Callis was connected with the Metropolitan insurance company as its superintendent in this city for some years. He became involved in trouble and left the city.

HE DID, BY GRAVEY.

Mr. Harry Kramer and little son, Master Grant Kramer, of Alexandria, two most noted bycyclists, were in Orange a few days ago en route to Asheville, N. C., and while here the former gave several free exhibitions on the street of his skill on riding the wheel, never failing, however, to take up several collections each occasion. During his last performance he announced he would do the most nervy trick which was ever done in the world. He said that he proposed to go to the top of the highest telegraph pole in town on his wheel and jump down without alighting. After receiving a number of liberal contributions he rode around in a circle once or twice and then deliberately rode off amid the jeers of the very large crowd that had assembled to see him, and which came very near mobbing him for getting their money under false pretenses. —[Orange Observer.

NEW STEAMER.

Mr. John Callahan, president of the Norfolk & Washington Steamboat Company, has returned to Washington after spending several days at Newport News observing the work on the new steamer Southland, under construction at the shipyard there for his company. Before leaving, Mr. Callahan stated that the Southland would be launched on Saturday, October 3. It is expected that the launching of the Southland will be an event of some importance. The vessel, which is to cost in the neighborhood of half a million dollars, will be the finest boat ever built for the bay service and her launching probably will be made the occasion of several excursions from Washington.

POLICE COURT.

[Justice H. B. Caton presiding.]

The following cases were disposed of this morning:

Walter Butler, colored, charged with drunken and disorderly conduct, was fined $5.

Charles Dean, an umbrella mender, charged with vagrancy, had his case continued.

Gertie Cole, colored, charged with disorderly conduct, forfeited her collateral by failing to appear.

Randolph Jones, colored, charged with disorderly conduct, was fined $5.

Noah Green, colored, charged with assaulting Ophelia Reddicks, was fined $50.

TO CURE DRUNKENNESS.

A well-known gentleman of this city, who is almost a teetotaler, has discovered a quick cure for drunkenness. He told about his remedy to a friend, who said he could hardly believe a thing so simple could be so efficacious, but he had occasion to try it on a man he found helplessly drunk in the county a few days ago. The remedy is very simple. The drunken man is laid on his back and cold water is poured on the scalp covering his brain. In five minutes the drunken man, no matter how helpless, can get up and walk.

IMPROVEMENTS.

Various portions of King street are being improved, some of the buildings being beautified with bay windows and the old sidewalks taken up and new ones laid. The Alexandria National Bank is having its granolithic pavement repaired at the corner of King and Royal streets.

The custom house is undergoing its annual overhauling preparatory for winter. Mr. J. D. Knight, contractor, was the lowest bidder for the improvements and the contract was awarded to him this morning.

AIRSHIP FLIES.

Although his flight lasted only 54 seconds, Orville Wright yesterday became closer acquainted with his aeroplane in that short period than he has managed to do in any of his several other plunges through the air. When he brought the machine to the ground, because of a defect in one of the levers, he announced his entire satisfaction with the trial. Darkness prevented him from making a second attempt.

GEORGE WASHINGTON PARK.

It has been suggested by Secretary A. J. Wedderburn, of the Washington Monument Association, that square 8, bordering on the reservoir, be used for park purposes, so as to connect the main park with Fort Ellsworth reservation, which he hopes and believes will be added to the park, as it is already covered with fine shade trees. If this is done with the consent of the lot owners there will remain less than 25 lots to be sold in the first allotment. When these are sold the entire Shooters' Hill property, except that used for park purposes, will have been disposed of. The option on this property was secured by the Washington Monument Association February 4 (price paid $25,589), and the secretary was authorized to sell lots enough to pay for the property if he could. In less than 7 months the entire property, except as above stated, had been disposed of, thus securing not only money enough to pay the purchase price, which has been paid, but an excess of from $7,000 to $10,000 which will be used for laying off and beautifying the park.

ANNUAL MEETINGS.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Merchants and Mechanics, Savings Bank of Washington, D. C., was held today at the office of attorney Leo P. Harlow, 119 south Fairfax street. The board of directors and the following officers were elected: President, Eldridge E. Jordan; first vice president, M. G. McCormick; second vice president Julius I. Peyser. The Merchants and Mechanics' Bank has recently united with the Traders' National Bank of Washington, D. C., taking over the assets of the latter institution.

The annual meeting of the Arlington Brewing Company was held this morning at Rosslyn for the election of a board of directors for the ensuing year.

DIRECTORS ELECTED.

At the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Fairfax Apartment House Company, held at that house last night, the following officers were elected to serve for the ensuing year: A. S. Doniphan, president and manager; W. A. Smoot, jr., vice president; O. C. Leadbeater, secretary and treasurer; A. S. Doniphan, W. A. Smoot, jr., O. C. Leadbeater, M. D. Morrill, E. S. Leadbeater, John Leadbeater, James P. Tolman and W. T. Rucker, directors.

GANG OF THIEVES.

In addition to a number of robberies occuring at properties which are lying idle another has been added. Mr. John A. Cogan's residence, 218 south Royal street, was entered in the last day or two and lead pipe, gas fixtures, chandeliers and other articles stolen. The value of the articles stolen is not so much, but when they have to be replaced it is quite expensive. It is hoped that the authorities will round up the thieves. If they don't it will be impossible for citizens to take vacation in summer.

AMUSEMENTS.

The amusement houses attracted crowds to their halls last night and, as predicted, delighted them with the motion pictures. New reels are displayed each night and they are tonight in particular very interesting and funny. The Alexandria Amusement Co. is putting on a good show as is the Elite Motion Picture House at Schuyler's Hall and the Opera House. The changes in the pictures will be seen in the advertisements in today's paper.

BRONZE DONKEY.

A committee on behalf of Mr. T. M. Whitney, of Wedderburn Heights, Fairfax county, today presented to Hon. C. C. Carlin a handsome bronze donkey, on which is a photograph of Hon. Wm. J. Bryan, to be used as a paper weight. It is a handsome piece of work and reflects credit on the donor. It represents the democratic candidate riding the donkey to certain victory. So mote it be.

BOY SLIGHTLY HURT.

Yesterday afternoon Chief Pettey was driving his carriage up King street and as he reached Columbus, a white boy, who was stealing a ride on the electric cars, seeing Officer Young, jumped from the train and fell under the horse driven by the chief. The boy, fortunately, was only slightly hurt.

FINED FIFTY DOLLARS.

Among the cases before Justice Caton in the Police Court this morning was that of Noah Green, a one-armed negro, who often figures in the court, who was charged with assaulting Ophelia Reddicks, colored, with a pistol. He was fined $50. Green was represented by Mr. Robinson Moncure.

TRAINS DELAYED.

Engine 41 drawing a heavy freight train left the Potomac yards at 6 o'clock Sunday evening for the south and when near Pohick station, Fairfax county, one of the large driving wheels flew off and the engine toppled. No one was hurt but traffic was delayed till 2:30 yesterday morning.

LOST HIS BOOTS.

Mr. George Craven, foreman in the building of scows at Smoot & Co's, reports the loss of a pair of No. 9 rubber boots from his office. A colored woman was seen on Royal street yesterday with boots answering the description. No arrest has been made in connection with the matter.

TOURNAMENT.

At the tournament at Burkes, Fairfax county, yesterday, the following were the successful riders:

First prize was won by A. Hassan, Knight of Dixie, who crowned Miss Grace Copperthite, of Burke, queen of beauty.

Second prize, H. S. Palmer, Knight of Georgetown, who crowned Miss Louise Chamberlain, of Washington.

Third prize, J. S. Blanford, Knight of Washington, who chose Miss E. Brophy, of Baltimore.

Fourth prize, J. H. Down, Knight of Annandale, who crowned Miss E. D. Jackson, of Washington.

The Hess Oxfords, "the finest", reduced. $4 00, $5.00 and $6.00 grades go at $3.90. J. A. Marshall & Bro., 422 King street.

BABY FOUND.

As stated in yesterday's Gazette the body of a dead infant boy was found in a stable on the farm occupied by Mr. J. D. Philips, at Hunter's station, near Mount Vernon. A gentleman who was in the city today said that a young woman by the name of Crump was visiting at the Philips home and that a night or two ago they heard a noise in the room occupied by this woman and Mr. Phillips called to her and asked what was the matter. She replied the noise was made by the cat. He asked her to put it out of the room, and she replied that she was trying to do so. A few days elapsed and, it is said, the odor coming from the dead child attracted Mr. Philips' attention and on searching he found the infant. A jury, with J. N. Gibbs as foreman, returned a verdict to the effect that the child's death was caused by negligence and the mother had been ignorant in the disposition of the remains. Justice Wright said the mother appeared before the jury and told of the circumstances attending its birth. He added that the mother is single and that the father is unmarried. A warrant has been issued for the arrest of a young man named Mingin, who is supposed to be the father. It is understood that the matter is about settled and the parties will be married.

CONFEDERATE VETERANS.

R. E. Lee Camp, Confederate Veterans, held their regular monthly meeting at their hall last night. Commander W. A. Smoot presided. An order was read from the Grand Commander, General Thos. Mumford, announcing the twenty-first annual meeting of the grand camp to be held at Charlottesville on Tuesday, October 20, and the unveiling of a monument to the Confederate dead of Charlottesville and Albemarle county on Friday the 23rd, which will be under the auspices of the John Bowie Strange Camp, of Charlottesville. The election of delegates to the grand camp will be held at the next meeting of the camp. Reports from committees were received and routine business was transacted.

CIRCUIT COURT FOR THE COUNTY

[Judge J. B. T. Thornton, presiding.]

The court appointed F. W. Graham, a member of the school electoral trustees board in place of J. T. Henderson, jr., whose term has expired.

The grand jury was sworn and returned indictments against Clarence Anderson for highway robbery; Jefferson Cash and Halley Cash for housebreaking and larceny; Mary Timbers, alias Lucy Banks, for grand larceny, and Richard McGuire for highway robbery. The grand jury then again returned to their room.

Jefferson and Halley Cash, both colored, charged with housebreaking plead guilty, and were sentenced to three years each in the penitentiary.

J. H. Jones, white, for larceny of rubber hose at Luna Park, plead guilty, and was given 60 days in jail.

Chief Goods and several members of the Alexandria police force were witnesses before the grand jury.

SCHOOL PERMITS.

Since yesterday the Clerk of the City School Board has issued 463 permits to children to attend the public schools, 234 to white boys and 229 to white girls, making 1,036 for two days—529 boys and 507 girls—against 1,071 for the corresponding two days last year—506 boys and 565 girls. Permits will be issued again tomorrow to the white children and on Thursday and Friday to colored children.

DEMOCRATIC CLUB.

At a recent meeting of the democrats of Mt. Vernon district, Fairfax county, a Bryan and Kern Club was organized by the election of E. Allen, president, and Norman Dove, secretary. The managing committee is W. Ward, Everett Triplett and George Javins. The next meeting of the club will be held at Potter's Hill school house on September 12, and prominent speakers are expected to be present.

POTOMAC YARDS.

A telephone message was received at the station house today in regard to the arrest of two men for stealing razors, shoes and other articles of merchandise at the Potomac yards. They were taken before Squire Brown of the county this morning who sent them to the grand jury which is in session in Alexandria county today.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

A poodle dog was run over at the corner of Royal and King streets this morning and had his back broken. It was a valuable and pretty canine.

The police have as yet learned nothing of the thieves who entered the commission house of N. Lindsey & Co. on King street Saturday night last.

The baseball game between the Burke baseball club and the Athletics, of Alexandria, at Burke, yesterday resulted in a victory for the first named team.

In the published report yesterday of the organization of the Bryan, Kern and Carlin Club on Saturday, the name of Mr. R. E. Barrett, the secretary, was inadvertently omitted.

Mr J. J. Kelly, who lives at the corner of King and West streets, the latter part of last week laid a pavement around his premises, but the storm on Saturday unnerved the whole improvements and it will have to be re-laid.

The body of Lawrence Leache, twenty years old, of Washington, who was drowned yesterday while hunting on the Eastern Branch of the Potomac in a leaky boat, has not yet been recovered.

The tomb of Washington at Mount Vernon was the mecca of 200 members of the Schubert Maennerchor, of New York, yesterday. There they placed wreaths on the tomb. The visitors are guests of the Washington Saengerbund.

Mr. Charles A. Speise is overhauling two large scows for Mr. L. E Smoot at his boat yard, foot of Wilkes street.

HIGHLY RECOMMENDED.

Truth crushed to earth will rise again. Men come and go and the deeds of the good ones live after them. Six years ago Drs. L. R. Bennett and E K Bennett sold a large quantity of their medicine in this city and did a great deal of good to those who were suffering. Dr. Bennett is here again and the same people are buying his goods. A living example of what he has done is Mr. Frank Hale, of 220 north Patrick street, who he cured of a tape worm 70 feet long. Mr Hale wants the people to know what Dr. Bennett's medicine did for him and has given free use of his name. But this is only one of many instances of cures effected by Dr. Bennett, only the modesty of some of the beneficiaries keeping their names out of the paper. There is another recommendation for Dr. Bennett—where he sells his medicines once he is always welcomed when he comes again. He has been a god end to a great many sufferers in this locality.

DANGEROUS DELAYS

A few minutes lost sometimes means a fortune gone. Unreliable watches often cause loss of life and property, broken engagements, missed trains and other troubles. The watches we offer are made according to scientific principles of the best material to be had, and often run for years with little attention. They will not "throw you down" at a critical time. You won't have watch troubles if you will let us help you make a selection.

TUESDAY EVENING, SEPT. 8, 1908

Suggested by a Lady.

"Let me have five two-cent stamps, please," said a lady to the polite young man behind the counter in the postoffice.

"Yessum," he said, handing them out.

"Can't you let me have them in one piece?" she added.

"Certainly, ma'am," said the young man. "Can I send them home for you?"

"Oh, no; I don't live far away, and I am going straight home. I wouldn't put you to the trouble."

"No trouble at all," said the polite official. "I haven't very much to do today, and I could easily spare an hour."

"Very much obliged," said the lady, smiling sweetly. "Dear me," she added, putting on a stamp, "what a bother it is to stamp letters! Why can't we send letters and let the postoffice send in their bill once a month?"

"They might just as well," said the obliging young man sympathizingly. "I'll mention the fact in my next report to Washington."

"Will you? How nice! But you mustn't mention my name. Say the idea was suggested by a lady."

Catching a Bride.

Among certain Siberians the bridegroom is not permitted to have a wife until he can catch her. But they do not give him a fair race in the open. The bride, surrounded by her female friends, awaits him in a big tent. As soon as she sees him she runs off. He follows like Hippomenes after Atalanta. But instead of obstacles being thrown in the way of the bride they are thrown across the path of the bridegroom. The pursuing groom falls over old women, chairs, tables, stones and fishing rods or is tripped up by ropes. Only when it is feared he might give up and sulk and go away without the fleeting lady is he permitted to overtake her. Then as she falls into his outstretched arms it may be imagined she utters some equivalent of "This is so sudden!"

A Live Steak.

"It is a mistake," said the president of the New York Waiters' club, "to think that an Englishman always wants his beef excessively rare. As a matter of fact, the English like their beef better done than we do. I once saw a waiter," he continued, "serve an English duke with a cut of very, very rare sirloin. The duke looked closely at the slice of bright red meat. Then he said:

"'Waiter, just send for the butcher, will you?'

"'The butcher, sir?' the waiter stammered.

"'Yes,' said the duke. 'This beef doesn't seem to be quite dead yet.'"

Charlotte Bronte's Last Tribute.

"He will not separate us—we have been so happy!" These were the last words of Charlotte Bronte when, having become Mrs. Nicholls and having lived with her husband only nine months, death came to snatch the cup of domestic felicity from the lips of the happy pair. A low, wandering delirium came on. Wakening for an instant from this stupor, she saw her husband's woe worn face and caught the sound of some murmured words of prayer that God would spare her. "Oh," she whispered, "I am not going to die, am I? He will not separate us—we have been so happy!"

The Words That Won.

In London one of the weekly papers offered a prize for the best list of strong words to number ten. The announcement specified that but ten words would be considered from any one person and a committee of literary men would select from the numbers offered the ten strongest words in the English language.

These are the words that won: Hate, blood, hungry, dawn, coming, gone, love, dead, alone, forever.

Do you think of any stronger, fuller of suggestion?—Exchange.

Not Herself.

Farmer (to medical man)—If you get out my way any time, doctor, I wish you'd stop and see my wife. I think she ain't feelin' well. Doctor—What makes you think so? Farmer—Well, this mornin' after she had milked the cows, an' fed the pigs, an' got breakfast for the men, an' washed the dishes, an' built a fire under the copper in the wash 'ouse, an' done a few odd jobs about the house, she complained o' feelin' tired-like. I fancy she needs a dose o' medicine.—London Scraps.

Charity.

Clara — At Jennie's wedding last week, owing to a misunderstanding, she had to wait at the church thirty minutes for the bridegroom. Maud—Oh, well, thirty minutes isn't anything to a woman who has waited thirty years.

Anxious.

Professor Stone—To the geologist a thousand years or so are not counted as any time at all. Man In the Audience—Great Scott! And to think I made a temporary loan of £2 to a man who holds such views!—London Telegraph.

Progress Reported.

"Did you have any luck fishing?"

"Yes."

"How many did you catch?"

"I didn't catch any. But I thought up some mighty good stories to tell the folks at home."—Washington Star.

Poker and Bridge.

Knicker—I was sitting up with a very sick friend last night, I tell you. Mrs. Knicker—Yes, I sat up with his sick wife all this afternoon.—Harper's Bazar.

Just a little Cascasweet is all that is necessary to give your baby when it is cross and peevish. Cascasweet contains no opiates nor harmful drugs and is highly recommended by mothers everywhere. Sold by W. F. Creighton & Co.

Hard and Soft.

"What," asked the teacher, "does anthracite mean?"

"That's a kind of coal," said little Willie.

"Yes. Anthracite coal is what we call hard coal. So 'anthracite' must mean 'hard.' Now, can you tell me what 'bituminous' means?"

"That's coal, too," Willie replied.

"But it isn't the same kind of coal that anthracite is, is it? Bituminous coal is what we commonly refer to as soft coal. Now, Willie, let us see if you can form a sentence containing the words anthracite and bituminous."

Willie thought the matter over for a minute and then said:

"Here's one: 'This morning before pa started downtown ma wanted $5 for groceries and things, and she tried to get it by saying bituminous words, but pa gave her an anthracite look, and when he disappeared around the corner she was weeping bituminously.'"

She Investigated.

What Elsie's sister wanted to know was where Elsie got that beautiful silver mounted walking stick. But Elsie didn't want Elsie's sister to know, so Elsie's sister got Elsie's father to ask Elsie.

"I found it," Elsie poutingly informed her father, "floating like a schooner on the waves one day when I was bathing."

But two days later Elsie's sister said to Elsie:

"Come—tell me! What is his name?"

"Name!" repeated Elsie blankly. "What do you mean?"

"I mean, dear," said Elsie's sister, "that last night I tried to make that stick of yours float in the bath, and—well, darling, it sank!" — Pearson's Weekly.

A Metaphor With a History.

To "know a hawk from a hernshaw" is a metaphor with a curious history. It is a comparison drawn from falconry. "Hernshaw" is a corruption of "heronshaw," or young heron, a bird which was a common prey of the falcons. To know a hawk from a hernshaw is therefore to be able to distinguish the falcon from its prey. A further colloquial corruption crept into the phrase—"to know a hawk from a handsaw," a form used by Hamlet in one place. Possibly the distinction between a hawk and a hernshaw was found not to be strong enough for the purposes of the proverb.—Manchester Guardian.

Agreed With the Lecturer.

During a lecture at one of the schools on the subject of "Ventilation and Architecture," the temperature of the room rose to a very high pitch.

"And now we will turn to Greece," said the lecturer.

"So we will," said one of the audience, wiping his brow, "unless you open some of the windows."—Pathfinder.

Out of It.

"Yes, he makes a big hit with her. He has a green automobile, and it matches her dress."

"Well, why don't you take her driving?"

"I ain't got no green horse."—St. Louis Republic.

It Is Odd.

Gyer—Isn't it queer that the bump of benevolence is located exactly at the top of a man's head? Myer—What's queer about it? Gyer—Why, it's as far from the pocketbook as possible.—Chicago News.

Happiness consists of thinking so and sticking to it.—Manchester Union.

Good for Biliousness.

"I took two doses of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tables last night, and I felt fifty per cent. better than I have for weeks, says J. J. Firestone of Allegan, Mich. "They are certainly a fine article for biliousness." For sale by W. F. Creighton and Richard Gibson. Samples free.
